Consulting

I offer professional, systemic-agile consulting supporting your process development & evaluation. My main areas of expertise are

- Career development of junior scientists
- Establishment of collaborative scientific infrastructures

I currently offer free systemic coaching for

- PhD students and postdocs from “non-academic” families
- male scientists planning a longer parental leave
- disabled scientists
- reorientation after burn-out

I look forward to supporting you with my more than 15 years of experience in training, strategy and organizational development.
